DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claim 1-8; and election of EUDRAGIT RS 30 D brand polymethylmethacrylate (claim 3) which is a type of ammonio methacrylate copolymer, type B USP/NF as set forth in generic claim 2, plasticizer triethyl citrate (claims 4 and 5), in the reply filed on 4/28/2008 is acknowledged.

The requirement is made FINAL.

Claims 9-18 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 contains the trademark/trade name "EUDRAGIT RS 30 D". Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe a specific formulation of polymethylmethacrylate copolymer and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hendrickson et al (US 5,286,497).

Hendrickson et al discloses a method of making a polymeric formulation comprising a mixture of water, Eudragit RS 30 D and plasticizer (column 12 lines 46-58). Among the disclosed plasticizers is triethyl citrate. The amount plasticizer utilized can vary, but will typically be present in the amount of 0 to 40 w/w %, and more preferably about 5-15 w/w % (column 7 lines 16-28).

In regards to the plasticizer, triethyl citrate, where selection of one named species from a list of alternatives is all that is required to arrive at the instantly claimed subject matter, that species is anticipated. Ex Parte A., 17 USPQ2d 1716 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1990). See also In re Sivaramakrishnan, 213 USPQ 441 (CCPA 1982).

Note, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. Here, the intended use of an inert coating to serve as a temporary mechanical barrier on top of a temporary coating of pharmaceutically active substance applied to the surface of a tooth appears to be met where the prior art teaches the polymeric formation as a coating for an active substance.

The physical properties, such as viscosity, it would have been reasonably expected to be inherent, given that the concentration of components of the disclosed solution appear to be of substantially the same range as those disclosed in the instant specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hendrickson et al (US 5,286,497).

The reference is believed to be anticipatory as discussed above. For the sake of completeness of prosecution, purely arguendo and with regard to this particular ground of rejection only, however, it will be presumed that the prior art differs from the instant claims insofar as it does not suggest the composition as a preferred embodiment. If that is so, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to pick and choose among the disclosed plasticizers where the various options are disclosed to provide the same physical property to the solution.

Conclusion

No claims allowed.
